Plaintiffs,

v.

CHRISTMAS TREE SHOPS, INC.,

Defendant.

Case No. 04 12698 JLT

AFFIDAVIT OF CARRIE KEI HEIM

I, Carrie Kei Heim, do hereby depose and say under oath as follows:

1. I am an attorney with the firm of Mintz Levin Cohn Ferris Glovsky & Popeo, PC, counsel for the defendant, Christmas Tree Shops, Inc. ("CTS"). I am familiar with the facts in, and procedural history of, the above-captioned action and am submitting this Affidavit and the exhibits attached hereto in support of Christmas Tree Shops, Inc.'s Motion to Strike the Survey and Report of Plaintiffs John Knight and Donna Russell Knight.

2. Attached to this Affidavit at Exhibit A is a true and accurate copy of an e-mail from plaintiffs' counsel.

3. Attached to this Affidavit at Exhibit B are true and accurate copies of the thirty (30) survey responses received from plaintiffs.

4. Attached to this Affidavit at Exhibit C is a true and accurate copy of the “Report of Survey of Glass Eye Customers.”

Signed, under the pains and penalties of perjury, this 15th day of May, 2006.

Joel,

To follow up on our recent e-mail below, please provide the following methodological information regarding the Report of Survey of Glass Eye Customers, dated March 31, 2006:

- 1) Who authored and conducted the survey
- 2) When the survey was conducted (dates the surveys were mailed & received)
- 3) A copy of the survey questionnaire as sent to the customer-participants
- 4) Copies of any additional information sent to the customer-participants in conjunction with or in anticipation of the survey (cover letter, etc.)
- 5) Copies of the 30 responses received (we will pay for reasonable copying costs)
- 6) Who tabulated the responses and prepared the report

This information is critical to a correct understanding of the report. As we are now working towards the deadline for providing our motion for summary judgment to the Court, we request that these documents be provided to us no later than next Monday, April 10th. If you have any objections, we invite you to call us to confer, pursuant to Local Rule 7.1, prior to April 10th. If we have not heard from you or received the requested materials by that date, we will file a motion to compel.

Thank you,
Carrie

Thanks, but please note our objection to any supplementation of any survey results anytime after today. The Court made clear that today was the deadline so that we could keep the schedule toward summary judgment moving. Toward that end, please identify for us who conducted the survey, when it was conducted, and who wrote the report.

Report of Survey of Glass Eye Customers

March 31, 2006

Survey Questions

The survey questions were as follows:

1. Have you ever shopped at a Christmas Tree Shop?
2. About how many times have you shopped at a Christmas Tree Shop last year?
3. Are you familiar with The Glass Eye wall sconce made for holding dried flowers?
4. Have you ever seen a similar-looking sconce at the Christmas Tree Shop?
5. Were you confused about who produced the sconce found at the Christmas Tree Shop?
6. If confused, was it because the two sconces were so similar?
7. Did you think that The Glass Eye must have sold their design and/or sconces to the Christmas Tree Shops?

Survey Universe

The surveys were sent by mail to 148 customers of the Glass Eye. The list was based on customers of during the month of October, 2004.

Survey Responses and Results

To date, 30 responses have been received. This represents a response rate of 20.3%. Additional responses will be retained, tabulated and made available to the defendant.

Twenty-five out of the 30 responses indicated that they shop at Christmas Tree Shops. This means that 83.33 percent of the respondents shop at both Christmas Tree Shops and The Glass Eye, a very significant overlapping of customers.

According to those who have shopped at the Christmas Tree Shops, these customers made a total of 413.5 trips to Christmas Tree Shops during the past year. (The 0.5 total occurred because when a response stated that the customer had been to the Christmas Tree Shops 6-7 times, the response was marked as 6.5 visits). Based on the 25 customers who visited Christmas Tree Shops, they shopped at CTS an average of 16.54 times during the past year. These are regular Christmas Tree Shops customers, visiting the store more than once per month on average.

Twenty-eight of the 30 respondents stated that they were familiar with The Glass Eye wall sconce. This represents 93.33 percent. This group is therefore not only very familiar with The Glass Eye's products, but they also are regular Christmas Tree Shops customers.

Of the 25 respondents who shop at Christmas Tree Shops, 19 noticed the Christmas Tree Shops wall sconce. This means that 76% of those who shop at Christmas Tree Shops, noticed the wall sconce.

Of those 19 who saw the sconce, 13 stated that they were confused as to the source of the sconce. This represents 68.4% of those who noticed the wall sconce. In other words, 68.4% of those customers who saw the Christmas Tree Shops wall sconce were confused as to the source of the sconce.

Eleven of the 13 (84.6%) who were confused noted that similarity between the sconces as one source for this confusion. Three of the 13 (23%) thought that The Glass Eye had either sold the sconce or the design to Christmas Tree Shops.

Fifteen of those 19 (78.9%) who saw the sconce at Christmas Tree Shops believed that Christmas Tree Shops had copied the sconce from The Glass Eye.

Conclusions

The Glass Eye is known for its wall sconce. When its customers see the sconce, or one very similar to it, they believe the source of the sconce is The Glass Eye. The Glass Eye wall sconce has achieved secondary meaning.

Further, the survey demonstrated that The Glass Eye's customers and Christmas Tree Shops customers overlap considerably.

Finally, the survey demonstrates customer confusion about the source of the wall sconces sold at Christmas Tree Shops.
